Dear Betty and Cliff:

Thank you for your letter that I received few weeks ago. Sorry I did not write in so long time, but I believe you still were in the field.

My trip to the States have to be postponed. As I perhaps told you before all the teaching positions at the Argentinian universities were cancelled after the revolution, so is to be appointed again you have to approve a sort of competition (concurso) as they call them. Happens that those competitions in Anthropology and Archaeology are not finished yet. Even Some of them are not started and I have to wait the result in order to see whether I am appointed professor. This is the reason why I did not travel to the next year I will be able to travel, if the Guggenheim does not cancel my fellowship.

I have been working in the field this summer, result you can see in the paper I am sending Betty for Notice and News of the A. Antiquity.

With warm congratulations for your successful field trip, I am your sincerely amigo:
